The following is a summary of the conditions for publication. Any changes to the terms or conditions of this agreement must be submitted in writing and accepted by both parties.

A)   Time schedule

The Guest Editor should provide the final and complete set of articles at the date mentioned above. EDP Sciences will publish the conference online within 3 months from the date of receipt of the articles to production.

B)   Guest Editor(s)' responsibilities

1. The proceedings are published under the responsibility of the Guest Editor(s) appointed by the Organizing Committee as regards format and content. As part of this responsibility, the Guest Editor has to conduct the peer-review process and should also make reasonable efforts to ensure that the proceedings papers comply with the ethical standards as described at: https://www.webofconferences.org/publishing-policies-ethics. A "Statement of Peer Review" should be signed by the Editor(s) involved in the peer-review process and returned to Web of Conferences. Reports from the peer-review process should be incorporated into the material to production.

2. The Guest Editor will ensure that the final version of the articles will be prepared according to the template and instructions for authors available on the website of the journal. The Guest Editor will not be supplied with PDF proofs of the articles after the preparation of the files. Therefore, it is important to ensure that all articles have been adequately checked prior to submission.

3. The Guest Editor provides camera ready PDF articles (or .doc /. TeX in case he/she chooses the layout option), properly generated, named and submitted as indicated in the organizers' guideline of the journal. It is also necessary for the Guest Editor to ensure that he or she obtains a released copyright for each article signed by at least one author of each article. The copyright is retained by the author(s) under the Creative Commons Attribution license, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium, provided the original work is properly cited. In addition, authors must submit written permissions from publishers of material to be reproduced, if it has already been published elsewhere.

4. At least one author of the article should attend the conference (physically or remotely). To avoid serial publications pratices, it is recommended to publish a maximum of two articles per author (regardless of his/her position in the list).

5. Article should be written in English and should be more than a short report or an abstract. The Guest Editor makes sure that the article is fully in the scope of the journal before publication (further recommendations are detailed in the Editorial Guideline available on the Journal's website).

6. The Guest Editor must ensure that the authors of the contributions come from many different countries in order to respect the international standing criteria imposed by the indexing databases.

7. Once a paper has been submitted online, changes are only permitted in cases of serious scientific error. In those cases, an erratum or a note is published according to the practices of professional scientific publishing. Publishing an erratum after online publication of the proceeding will be charged 300 € (Euros) per article, except if the error is on the part of the Publisher.

8. Before publication, Web of Conferences will randomly check papers from each conference using the text comparison tool "i'Thenticate", to prevent plagiarism malpractices. The Guest Editor is encouraged to let the authors know about this procedure and to announce it on the conference's website.

9. The total charge is payable to Web of Conferences in € Euro at the time the volume is published, i.e., within 30 days from receipt of the invoice. The invoice will be sent to the contact person indicated on Page 1 of this publishing agreement. If there will be an alternate address to which the invoice should be sent, it should be provided during material submission. Exceptionally, the payment can be arranged before the due date if required by the Guest Editor. EDP Sciences can also reserve the right to require an advanced payment.

10. Once the volume of the conference is published, we generally do not accept any more contribution for publication. However, only if the circumstances are justified, any additional article published after the conference is online will be charged 50 € (Euros) for the extra work involved.

C) Web of Conferences responsibility

1. Web of Conferences undertakes to publish online the volume within the 3-month deadline that has been defined.

2. As part of a basic online publication, Web of Conferences will perform the following services:
   - Preparation of the online metadata (title, authors, affiliations, abstract, references)
   - Attribution of DOI Names and indexation to CrossRef®
   - Online publication of the PDF articles and creation of HTML metadata
   - Indexation in databases listed in the journal website
   - Access to journal's services and links to social bookmarking websites
   - Archiving and maintenance for an unlimited time

   …and any other publication option(s) chosen by the Guest Editor

3. While the primary responsibility for reviewing the material falls to the Guest Editor, Web of Conferences reserves the right to exclude any or all material from publication should Web of Conferences deem the material (a) is unsuitable for publication based on form or content, or (b) conflicts with author instructions and ethical standards as discussed in Section B1.

4. The proceeding will be permanently free-to-read and available to users and readers worldwide without any additional fee to pay for accessing or downloading the articles.

5. Web of conferences will publish the number of articles estimated in the current agreement. However, it is agreed that the number of articles submitted for publication may vary (in a reasonable proportion) from this estimate.

6. Web of Conferences supports the work of abstracting and indexing databases. However, it is at the discretion of the indexing databases as to how quickly they process and upload new content. Unfortunately, Web of Conferences has no control over how long it takes for each volume to be indexed. Any inquiry should be addressed to the indexing databases directly.

7. The terms of indexation of Web of Conferences in indexing databases depend essentially on the evaluation team of these organizations who reserve the right to include or exclude a journal at any time, according to their own editorial policy. Any changes that may occur in the indexation of the journal after the signature of a publishing agreement will not result in an amendment or cancellation of the current contract.

8. Web of conferences will issue a final publishing agreement once the conference is ready to be published online.

D) Prices

The price is fixed and not subject to any changes for the entire period of the contract. However, prices related to the books option may vary according to the number of copies and the final number of pages.

Web of Conferences bases its relationship with the Editor on trust and did not settle cancellation policy which require to pay some fees in case of cancellation of the agreement by the Guest Editor. It is expected that the agreement is respected. There will be no penalties in case of cancellation by the Guest Editor, provided the material has not been sent to the production office. There will be obligation to pay only for the work that would have been performed by our production services after receiving the material.
